Hot Topic. Supplemental Training
Every Scout deserves a trained leader, and each registered leadership position has its own set of training modules that must be completed for you to be considered position trained. However, supplemental training will not only boost your confidence as a leader but will also maximize your impact on your Scouts.

Safety Moment. February is American Heart Month
As we celebrate American Heart Month this February, it's a great time to focus on the importance of heart health and overall well-being as we gear up for upcoming Scouting activities. Whether you're preparing for a weekend camping trip, high-adventure expeditions, or any physically demanding events, it's crucial to take the right steps to stay healthy and safe.

Safety Moment. Weather-Related Safety
Prepare for the types of weather hazards that are associated with your destination. The Scouting America's online Weather Hazards training is a great resource in this area and should be renewed every two years.

Membership Moment: Community Visibility
Do people in your community know that Scouting is happening in their area? Our good work continues in our communities with food drives, park clean-ups, and other civic matters. One way to improve people's impressions that we are not here is to get some good press coverage.

Cub Scout Leader Breakout: AOL to Scouts BSA Transition
We will discuss how Arrow of Light adventures help AOL Scouts be prepared to join Scouts BSA, the importance of meaningful Crossing Over ceremonies, and troop orientation meetings for new Scouts and their parents.

Scouts BSA Leader Breakout: Joining Conferences
In the next couple of months, new Arrow of Light Scouts will be crossing over from Cub Scouts. In a joining conference, the Scoutmaster can get to know the Scout, learn what they hope to get from Scouting, provide information about the troop, and answer questions.
